

He thought he might have dozed off, tracking beyond the technical limits of the main view screen. He woke up with a start, knocked over his tea.

She spoke quietly, at first.

“I know.”